The University of Kansas Medical Center

Division of Hematology/Oncology is seeking a Blood and Marrow Transplant Physician

KUMC currently has a robust autologous and allogenic stem cell transplant program expected to perform approximately 175 transplants in 2009.

The successful candidate will participate in clinical service in the program and participate in teaching and research activities. Teaching opportunities will include didactic teaching sessions to fellows, residents, students, nurses, counselors and research staff. Preference will be given to candidates with clinical trial, translational research and/or drug development experience.

The University of Kansas Hospital established its Blood and Marrow Transplant (BMT) program in 1977. The program has recently moved to our new Cancer Center. Our state-of-the-art facility helps us deliver the most advanced medical care and the very best patient experiences. We take a personal approach with our patients, their families and their health care providers. Every team member is dedicated to providing intelligent and compassionate care to meet the needs of each patient.

The University of Kansas has chosen to make cancer its number 1 priority and we are optimistic that our Division will continue to grow. We are able to offer very competitive salaries.

Please direct inquiries to Stephen K. Williamson, M.D., Director, Division of Hematology/Oncology, University of Kansas Medical Center, Mail Stop 5003, 2330 Shawnee Mission Parkway, Westwood, Kansas 66205. Applicants should include a current CV and a cover letter with contact information for five references. Please email to swilliam@kumc.edu. KUMC is an EEO/AA employer.

FACULTY POSITIONS

Hematopoietic Stem Cell and Leukemia Research

City of Hope National Medical Center

As part of its ongoing expansion, the City of Hope National Medical Center/Beckman Research Institute and Comprehensive Cancer Center invites applications for faculty positions at the Assistant or Associate Professor level in the Division of Hematopoietic Stem Cell and Leukemia Research. The mission of this division is to build a program of excellence in basic and translational hematopoietic stem cell and leukemia biology, and provide an infrastructure to translate novel therapeutic approaches from the laboratory to the clinic (http://www.cityofhope.org/patient_care/treatments/HCT/hematopoietic-cell-transplantation/Pages/default.aspx). Potential areas of research emphasis include, but are not limited to, mechanisms of self-renewal and differentiation of normal and leukemia stem cells, identification of key molecular mechanisms of transformation; preclinical studies of molecular targets; studies of development of hematopoietic cells from pluripotent cells, and hematopoietic stem cell-based therapeutics. This program will complement and support our outstanding clinical Hematopoietic Malignancies and Hematopoietic Cell Transplantation Program.

Successful candidates will have a faculty appointment in the Beckman Research Institute and also be appointed to City of Hope’s NCI-designated Comprehensive Cancer Center. Generous start-up packages will be available. Appointees will also participate in the Graduate School of Biological Sciences. The Beckman Research Institute provides an environment that encourages interdisciplinary, collaborative interactions with a rich set of core resources (described in http://www.cityofhope.org/research/support/Pages/default.aspx). Candidates should have a Ph.D. or M.D. degree, postdoctoral experience, and the potential to establish, or to have established, an independent research program. Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, a statement of research interests and plans, and the names, addresses and telephone numbers of at least three references (who may, optionally, submit their letters), to:
